

The Missionaries

Paris & Lauren

After getting married in September of 2018, God made it clear that our next steps led to Thailand in service of the migrant communities on the border. Leaving everything behind, we obediently set off to love boldly. We have a vision of not only equipping young people with valuable job skills, but awakening the calling God has placed on each of their lives. We serve this vision best through family, discipleship, and radical acceptance. We are blessed with the responsibility of leading the youth ministry called Seeds as we build and develop programing geared towards English learning. Lauren and I also disciple and empower a small group of young people who lead our weekend youth service, and we work closely with local schools providing extracurricular learning opportunities for students.

The Wandering Winfreys

Thailand Missionaries

A young family dedicated to seeing people come alive in Christ.

Teaching

Developing school systems often leave migrant children behind. By providing extra-curricular learning opportunities, we seek to give overlooked youth a chance at success in an environment that points back to the love of Christ.

Ministering

Through worship and Christ centered community, we are building up the body of believers, leading them in praise, and witnessing to the lost.

The Movement

Outpour

Founded with compassion by Ray and Candace Ward in 2006, Outpour Movement is more than just an organization helping, it's a family advocating to see lives empowered.

Outpour Movement exists to transform, disciple, train, and empower the youth and young adults of oppressed groups who transcend the Thailand and Burma border.

The Ministry

Advocating

For years, the people of Myanmar have suffered through civil war and oppression. Voices were silenced, dreams were destroyed and all of it happened unbeknownst to the modern world.

Through job skills training, relational ministry, and educational programming, our goal is to hand the tools over to the people primed to heal their nation.

The Means

Partnership

Like many other missionaries we depend on the consistent financial support of concerned individuals and churches. We do not receive a salary and operate primarily through generous gifts.
